

West Michigan Born & Raised

The Schaendorf family has been farming in West Michigan for three generations. In 1994, John Schaendorf and his family purchased an 80-acre dairy farm in Hopkins, Michigan. With humble beginnings, John and his family worked diligently to build their farm. Over the past two decades, the Schaendorf family has cared for their animals and the land. In 2016, John and his son, Ben Schandorf, began Schaendorf Cattle Company. The two realized the need for a transparent business model that was able to communicate food processes from start-to-finish, to customers and distributors.
