BEEF

Snake River Farms

Snake River Farms first bred Wagyu with high quality cattle in the late 1980s and loved its deep flavor and sublime marbling. They've been mastering that prized combination ever since. It's work that takes precision, genetic mastery, and a dedication to unending refinement and innovation. They control their entire supply chain, from the ranches where their cattle are raised to their humane processing facility to their in-house customer care team. It would be easy to outsource, but being a pioneer doesn't mean doing work the easy way; it means doing work the right way. The end product is an exceptional, buttery beef that is served in the best restaurants in the world.
